You Have 7 Seconds To Make An Impression

There is no question that having an online presence is essential in order to attract new customers. 84% of customers believe that a website makes a company more trustworthy and 97% of customers use online searches to discover local businesses.

In short, a great website gives your audience an easy way to not only discover you in the first place, but also learn everything they need to before taking a step through the door.

Your website also allows you to instantly engage with your viewers by telling them exactly the kind of club you are and why you are their best option (as most customers will also compare your site to other clubs in the area).

You only have one chance to make a first impression, so it's crucial that your website captures what your club is all about and gives them the option to sign up there and then.

From looking great, to working smoothly on every device and giving your visitors all the information they need to pay you a visit – you need to make sure you hit the fundamentals of what makes a great website every step of the way:

- High quality writing that sells your gym
- Visuals that bring your brand to life
- Fully optimised for different devices
- Join online option
- Testimonials about why your members love you
- Clear membership options
- Up to date class & facility information
- Easy way to get in touch with you
